

Scaling up energy projects in Asia to trigger NDC implementation

Potential for using GCF and other sources of climate finance

International Climate Finance and NDCs

Scaling up needs

01

Funding needs

The international community is far from meeting the USD 100 billion target for climate investment and public funding is not sufficient to bridge this gap on its own, but it can be used to leverage private capital.

02

Derisking

Scaling up of climate change projects is not possible without derisking the investment environment.

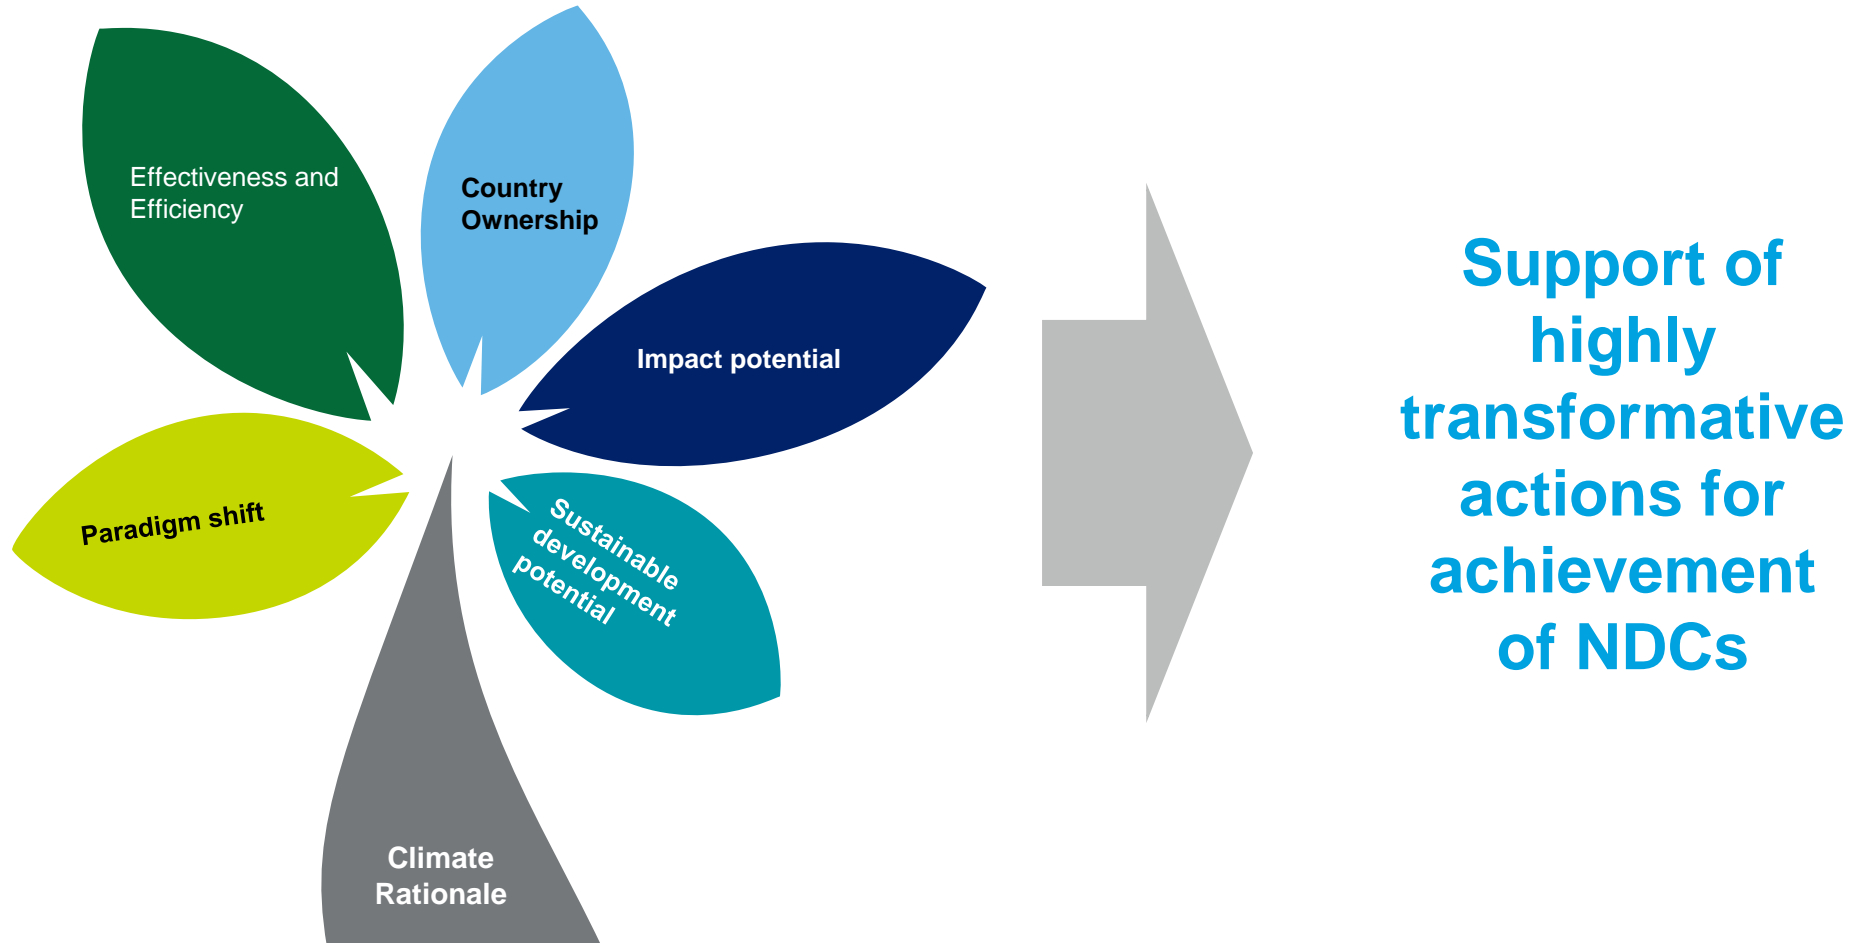

03

Capacity building needs

Scaling up of investment and irreversible transition to a low-carbon and resilient society is not possible without strong country ownership and building the necessary capacity.

The approach of the GCF

Comprehensive approach for achieving the NDCs

Projects by the GCF and other climate funds

Examples

1

GCF

Indonesia Geothermal Resource Risk Mitigation Project

2

World Bank

Adaptation and mitigation activities in Philippine rice cultivation -
AWD in rice irrigation

3

UNDP

Promotion of renewable energy projects in The Gambia through the use of the Paris Climate Bond
