The Paris Agreement and Means of Implementation

Significantly scale up emissions-reduction efforts and strengthen the ability of countries to deal with the impacts of climate change

The Paris Agreement

Article 11 – Capacity-building

Capacity-building has become an important foundation of climate actions. The effective capacity building must enable developing countries to contribute to global efforts to reduce emissions and adapt to climate change

Paragraph 1: Capacity-building under this Agreement should enhance the capacity and ability of developing country Parties, in particular countries with the least capacity, such as the least developed countries, and those that are particularly vulnerable to the adverse effects of climate change, such as small island developing States, to take effective climate change action, including, inter alia, to implement adaptation and mitigation actions, and should facilitate technology development, dissemination and deployment, access to climate finance, relevant aspects of education, training and public awareness, and the transparent, timely and accurate communication of information.

Paragraph 2: Capacity-building should be country-driven, based on and responsive to national needs, and foster country ownership of Parties, in particular, for developing country Parties, including at the national, sub national and local levels.

Paragraph 4: All Parties enhancing the capacity of developing country Parties to implement this Agreement, including through regional, bilateral and multilateral approaches, shall regularly communicate on these actions or measures on capacity-building. Developing country Parties should regularly communicate progress made on implementing capacity-building plans, policies, actions or measures to implement this Agreement.
